Fold this flap back over the string, then tape or glue

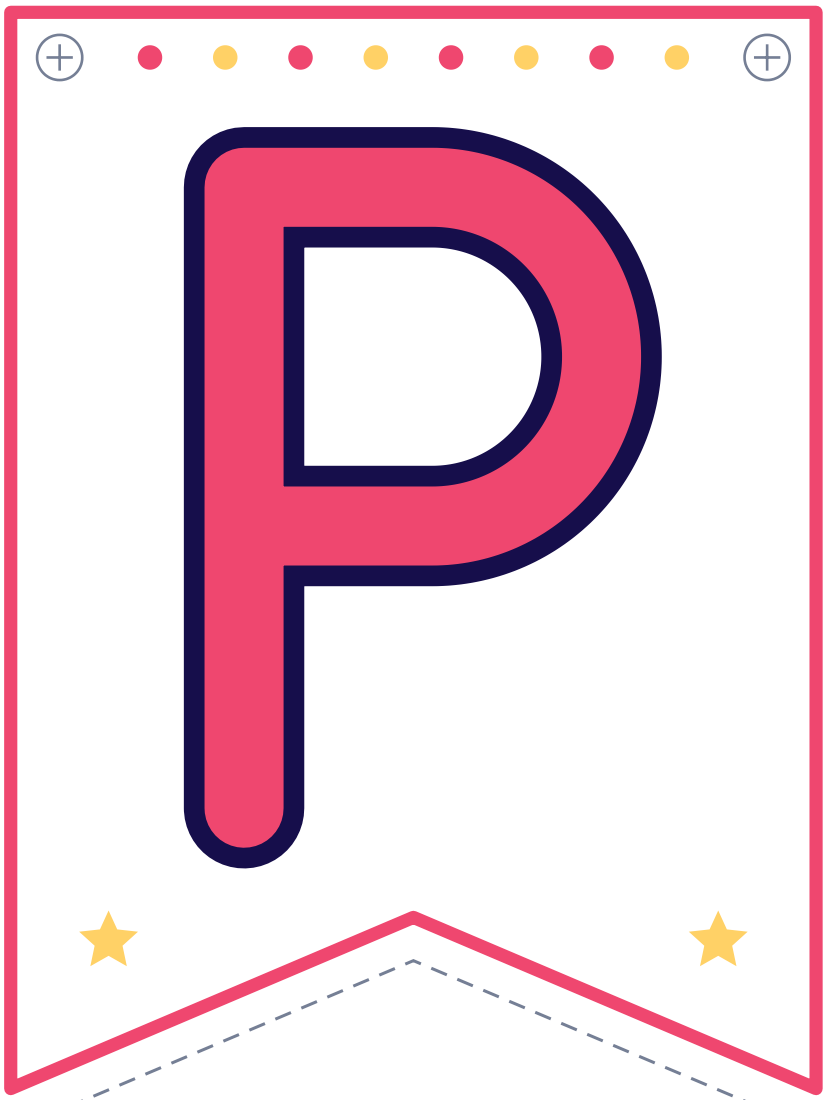

Fold this flap back over the string, then tape or glue

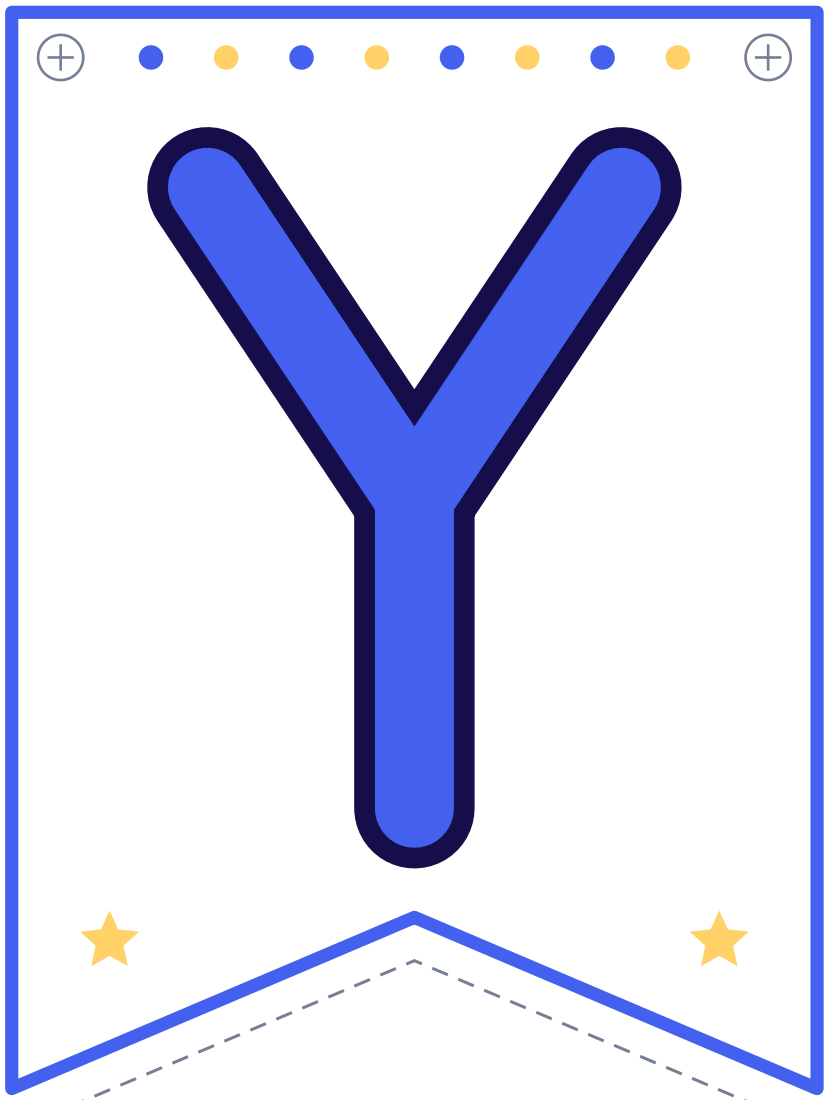

Fold this flap back over the string, then tape or glue

Fold this flap back over the string, then tape or glue

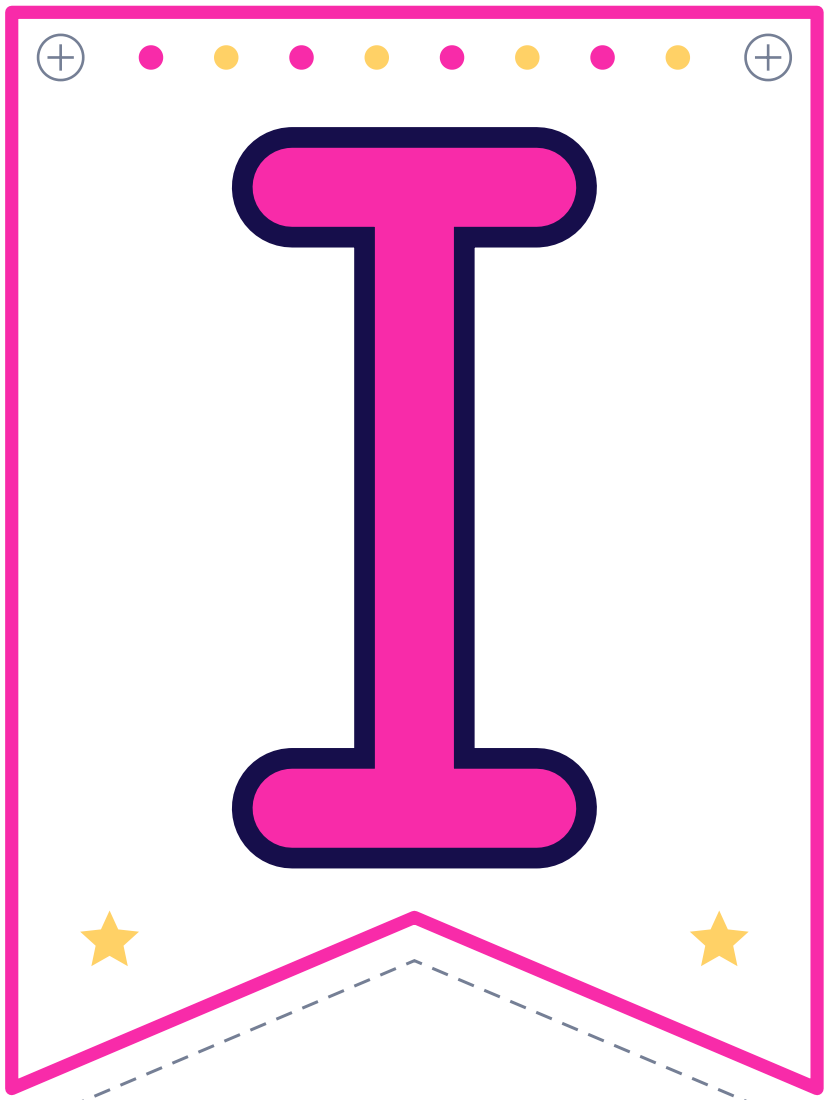

Fold this flap back over the string, then tape or glue

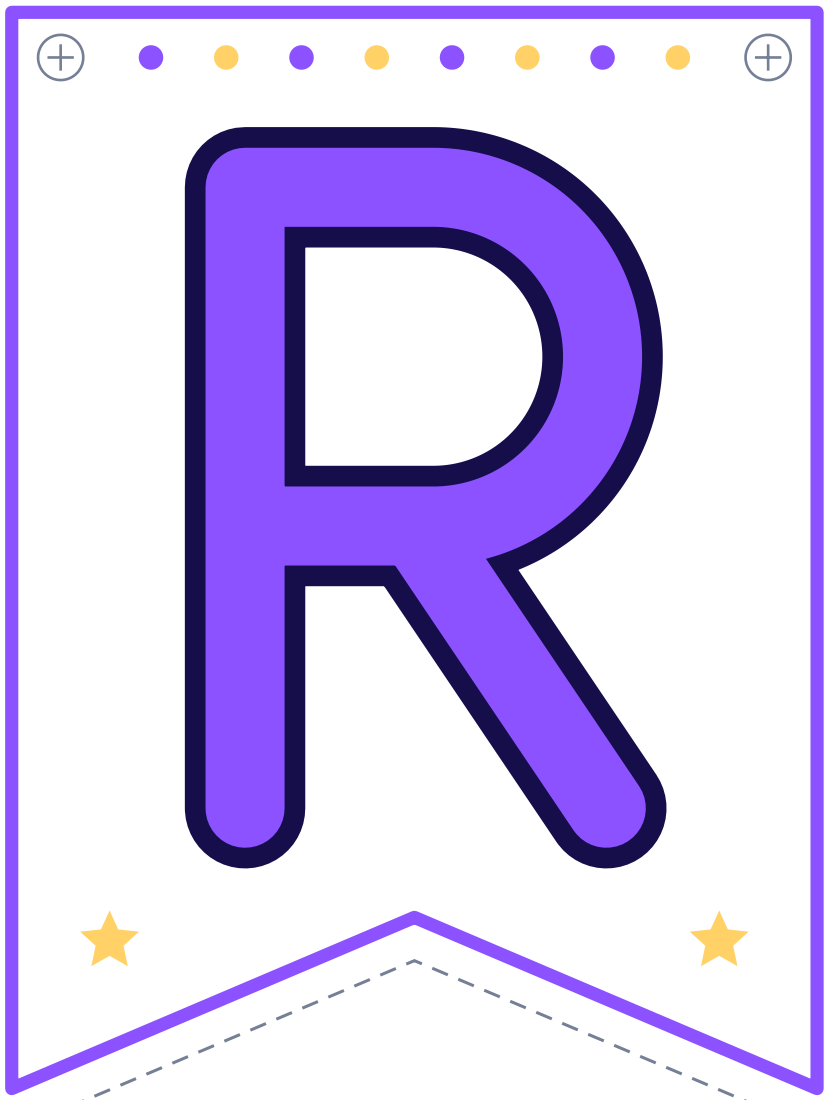

Fold this flap back over the string, then tape or glue

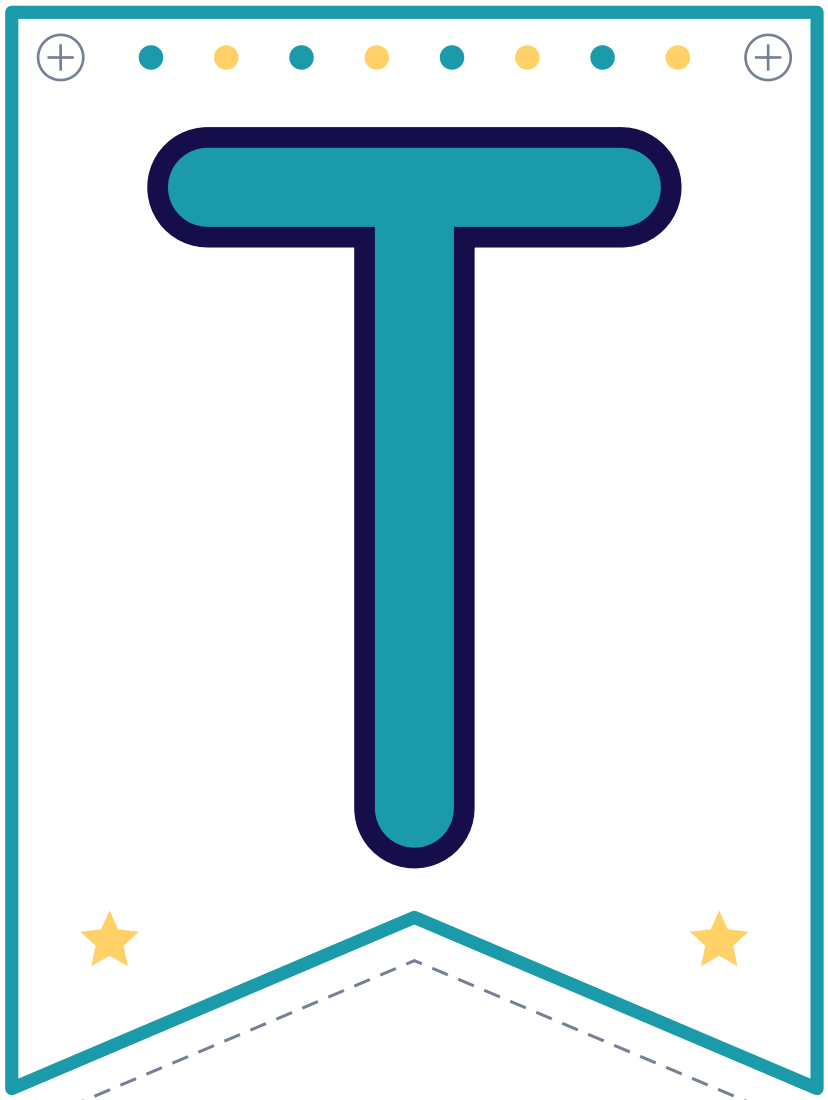

Fold this flap back over the string, then tape or glue

Fold this flap back over the string, then tape or glue

Fold this flap back over the string, then tape or glue

Fold this flap back over the string, then tape or glue

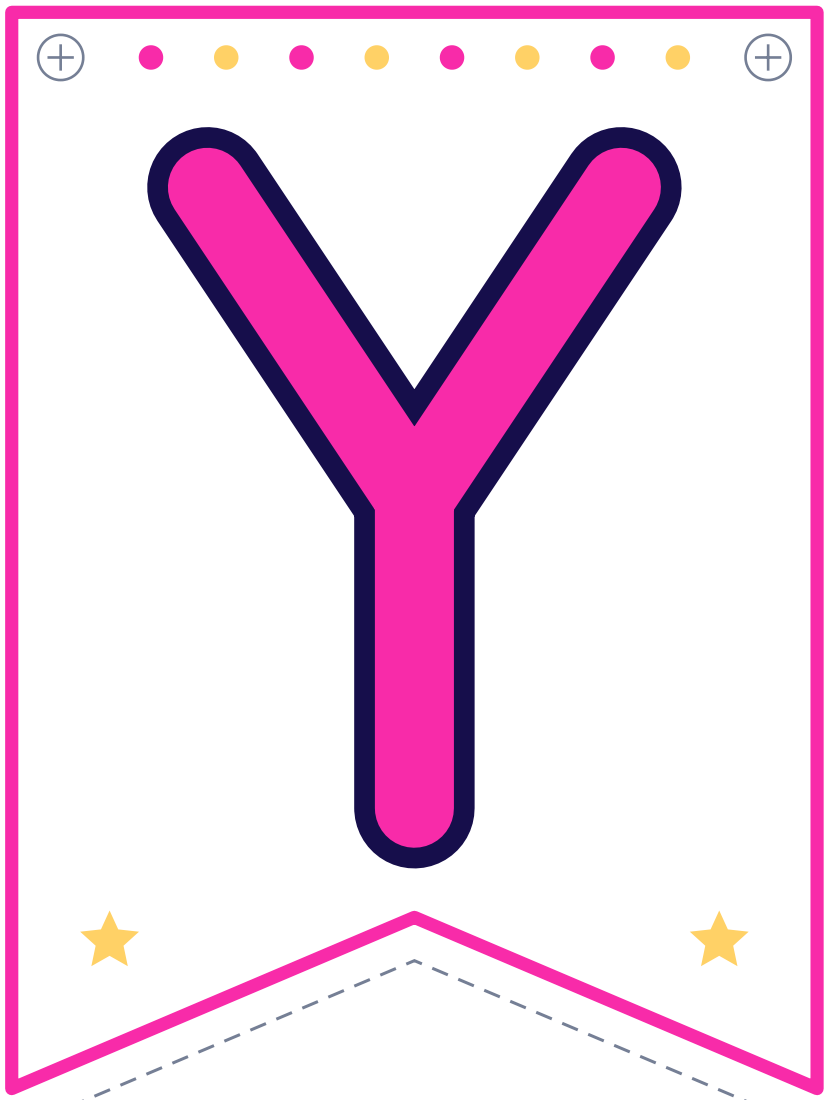

Fold this flap back over the string, then tape or glue

Fold this flap back over the string, then tape or glue

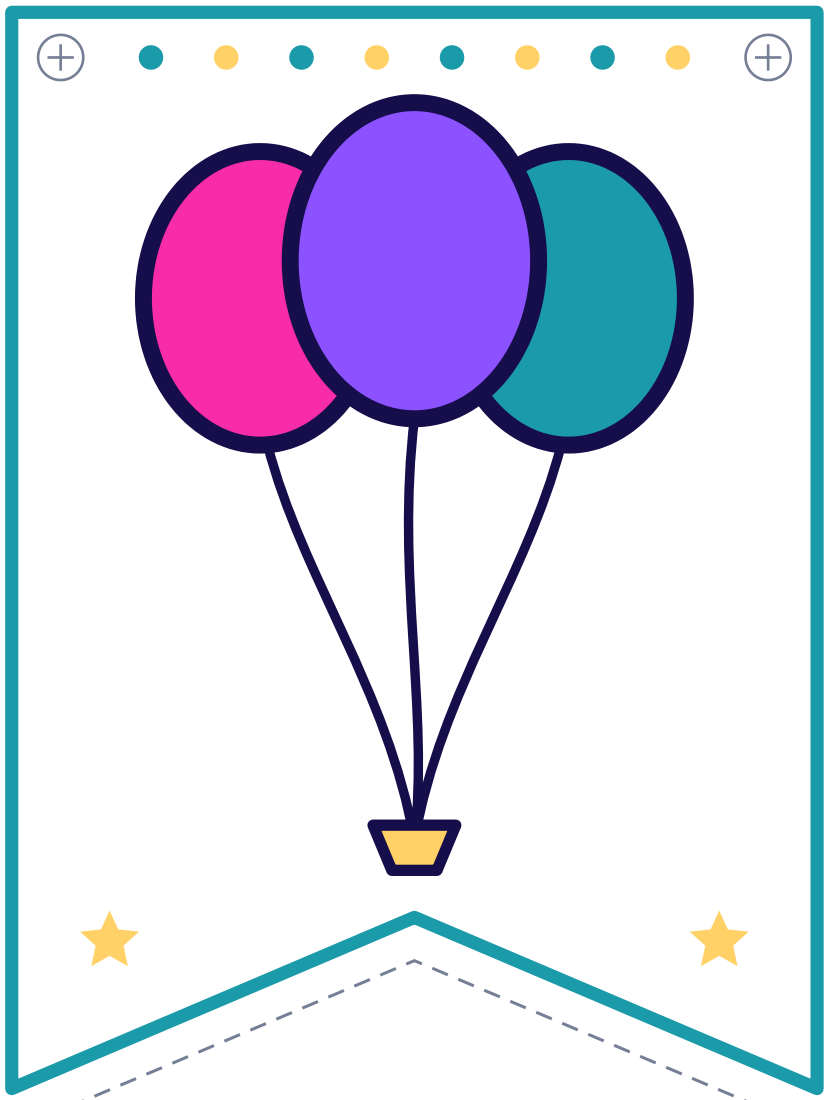

Fold this flap back over the string, then tape or glue

Fold this flap back over the string, then tape or glue

Fold this flap back over the string, then tape or glue

How to hang your banner

1. Print every page at 100% ("Actual size"). Card stock hangs flatter than plain paper.
2. Cut out each pennant along the dashed outline.
3. Fold the top flap back along the dotted line, over a long piece of string or ribbon, and tape or glue it down.
4. Leave a gap between HAPPY and BIRTHDAY, or hang them as two rows.

No tape? Punch the two round marks and thread the string through them. Use the star and balloon pennants at the ends or between the words.