Birthday Party Food Planner

Write your guest numbers in boxes A and B, then multiply each row. A starting point, not a rule.

PARTY FOR	DATE AND TIME	A · CHILDREN (4 TO 10)	B · TEENS AND ADULTS

FOOD OR DRINK	PER CHILD (4 TO 10)	× A =	PER TEEN OR ADULT	× B =	TOTAL TO BUY OR MAKE
Sandwiches Snack party	1 sandwich, cut into quarters		1 to 1.5 sandwiches
Pizza Meal	1 to 2 slices		2 to 3 slices
Main dish from a pot	About half an adult portion		1 portion, plus 10 percent spare overall
Finger food Snacks-only evening	Not applicable		4 to 6 pieces per hour
Fruit and vegetables	1 small handful		1 handful
Chips or crackers	1 small handful		1 to 2 handfuls
Drinks	2 small cups		2 in the first hour, then 1 per hour
Cake	1 small slice or 1 cupcake		1 slice

A starting point, not a rule. Appetites vary with age, time of day and how long the party runs. Adjust up for teens and for long parties, and down when there are many dishes. Count the adults who stay, and skip the rows you are not serving.

ALLERGY AND DIETARY NOTES

GUEST	ALLERGY OR DIETARY NEED	WHAT THEY CAN HAVE

On the day: label every dish with what it is and any common allergens in it, keep the packaging until the party is over, and use a separate serving spoon for each dish. The family of the guest knows what is safe for them.
